Do I buy the St Louis Cardinals cards upfront?

No, all certificate cards are consigned to your group and you will sign a consignment agreement upfront. You may return any unsold cards at no charge to Dough Raisers. We suggest starting with 10 certificate cards per player.

How can I promote the fundraiser?

Major League Baseball and the St Louis Cardinals will not allow you to promote through social media (Craig's List, Ebay, ticket broker or any retail establishment, etc.) You may use personal email and sales flyers which we will provide.

Can I place additional orders?

Yes, provided you settle on your initial consignment order that you received. Note: this happens a lot as your members find out how easy the Cardinals are to sell.

How do I keep track of the cards?

All certificate cards are individually numbered. We suggest that you have each member sign for their cards and write down their certificate numbers.

Sells for $49.99, your team makes $15 per St Louis Cardinals card. Sales are based on consignment...no upfront money required! Here is what you can make!
